Sailor and his Truelove.

Printed and Sold at 60, Old treet:

A youngsailor & his truelove one morning in May,
Where walking together in the fields blithe & gay,
Says the sailor to his truelove my dear for your sake, I'll away unto the Indies my fortune to make,

Then a heavy sigh she gave him, saying jemmy
my dear,
While down her sweet rosy cheek ran many a tear What will you go and leave me in sorrow to remain,
Till you from the Indies return back again,

O then from off his finger a gold ring he gave her,
Saying take this as a token for more you shall have I'm bound to the ocean where the billows loud do roar,
For the sake of lovely Nancy, the girl I adore

Then fairwell, my dearest Nancy, I no longer can
I stay,
For our top sails are loo'd and our anchor it is weigh'd;
Ten thousand kisses, and down her cheeks tears fell
May heavens protect-you dear jemmy.
